Don't Fail to Visit the Old British Convict Ship Success

Now in Washington, en route to San Francisco, where she will be a feature of the great Panama Exposition.

THIS WONDERFUL VESSEL HAS MADE HISTORY.

In 1790, the 'convict Ship Socress was built of solid Burmah Teak, at Moulmain, British East India, as an armed East India merchantman. Purchased by the British government in 1801, she was converted into a floating convict prison, and became the commodore ship of the Felon Fleet, being generally known as "The Ocean Heil."

But it is the oldest ship in the world and the only convict ship left aftest of that dreadful fleet of helis which sailed the Seven Seas in 1790 A. D. She is unchanged after all these years, nothing being consisted but her human freight and their sufferings from the cruelties and barbarities practiced upon them. Aboard her are now shown, in their original state, all the sirless dungeons and condemned cells, the whipping posts, the manucles, the branding home, the punishment balls, the leaden-tipped cut-o-nine-tails, the coffin both, and other flendish inventions of man's brutality to his fellowman.

Work on razing the historic old German Lutheran Church, at Wisconsin avenue and Volta place northwest, will begin Wednesday. Final services were held in the old building yesterday, including talk on its history in the morning and a farewell supper in the evening Rev. Luther H. Waring, pastor, stated yesterday that the contract calls for the completion of the new building within six months.

The first church on the site now occu pled by the present one was built of logs in 1788, when there was no cits of Washington, and the present Georgetown was a village of 1,000. Later the old church was found inadequate, so a larger one was built of dressed wood. That in time gave way to the present building of brick. and now a fourth one is to be built of stone. Statement to President Denying Agitator's Claims.

President Wilson has become the storm center of the woman suffrage fight in the General Federation of Women's Clubs. The board of directors of the Nationa Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage, acting through the organization's presi-dent, Mrs. Arthur M. Dodge, of New York, yesterday forwarded to the President the copy of a statement indor-ed by the directors denying that the 1,000,000 women of the federation are in favor of woman suffrage and rebuking in sweeping terms the General Federation for the tac tics it employed in its biennial convention in Chicago recently in securing a vote for woman suffrage.

This communication was sent to Mr.

Wilson in anticipation of the visit to him tomorrow of a delegation of suffragists from the General Federation. The declaration of the "antis" reads, in part:

"Case of Gag Rule."

"Of the State federations, seventeer dent and that his chances of succeeding have endorsed woman' suffrage and himself are excellent.
